Support a Student Donation Campaign
MANUSCRIPTS DON'T BURN

Tamizdat Project is a non-profit scholarship and charity initiative that studies banned books from the Eastern Bloc during the Cold War. Today, these books remind us that freedom and education know no boundaries. That is why we are launching a fundraising campaign, “Manuscripts Don’t Burn,” to support undergraduate students forced to leave their home countries due to Russia’s war against Ukraine or persecution in Belarus and Russia for their anti-war stance.

Our “Manuscripts Don’t Burn” donation campaign will support displaced students from Ukraine, Belarus, and Russia. All funds raised through all three campaigns will help them pay for tuition and living expenses while studying in the U.S. We will work with the universities that have admitted them to make our goal a reality. Small numbers lead to big sums!

SCAN ME!

Our Signed & Inscribed Books Auction includes nearly 300 titles by over 100 contemporary writers, artists, and scholars. Our auction features books signed by Nobel Prize Laureate Svetlana Alexievich, director of Harvard Ukrainian Research Institute Serhii Plokyh, Russian émigré writer and critic Alexander Genis, celebrated stage director Dmitry Krymov, and rap musician Noize MC, to name a few.

SCAN ME!

Our Rare Books Auction features first editions of “contraband” works from behind the Iron Curtain and books by émigré authors. Most were banned, censored or never submitted for publication at home but first published abroad long before seeing the light of day in the former USSR after its fall. These are books by Brodsky, Gorbanevskaya, Solzhenitsyn, Sinyavsky and Daniel; complete works by Mandelstam and Gumilev, reprints of Silver-Age poets, and more.
